

MARK T. BARCLAY

I PREDICT

"And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten..." | JOEL 2:25

& BEYOND

2026—A YEAR FOR THINGS TO GET FIXED!

- 1 I predict that those who work hard at fixing broken things in their life will be supernaturally helped by God.
- 2 I predict there will be scattered revival—in other words, here and there. Believe for it in your own church for your own sake. Don't be fooled by the fake.
- 3 Sadly, we will see even more Christians pull up roots, disconnect, and begin to drift and roam around. This will cause quite an instability for churches, let alone their own lives (James 1:18).
- 4 Liberty, freedom, and peace will only be enjoyed by those who pursue it (1 Pet. 3:11).
- 5 POTUS will continue to deal with things that will fervently fan the flame of support and opposition like never before.
- 6 You may be considered naïve if you believe that Russia, China, Iran, and others resisting the free world will just automatically settle down and everyone will live in great peace.
- 7 I predict that many Christians will begin to take the mark of the beast. No, not in the form of a tattoo, but rather in a soulful pledge of allegiance to the anti-Jesus, anti-Christ movement that is flowing, even among the churches.
- 8 We will witness the beginning signs of people being prepped for the arrival of the antichrist, and we will realize that many Christians (including many leaders) will fall for it.
- 9 Many preachers will lose track of God in their own house and will opt for other means to attract people. Chase God—and God only—with all your heart!
- 10 There will be a constant onslaught of slander, gossip, and desertions, attempting to shut the mouths of the true preachers.
- 11 Hatred toward Israel, the Jews, and Christians will not fade away. In fact, there will be signs and birth pangs of Armageddon.
- 12 More and more, I see Christians breaking soul ties and their deep relationships with the ungodly and those who live contrary to the Word (2 Cor. 6:17).
- 13 Beware of seducing spirits! We will witness many Christians who will listen to seducing spirits and demonic doctrines and eventually join others in full attack against Christianity, local churches, pastors, and even believers who choose to walk with God. However, they cannot permanently hurt you if you draw close to God.
- 14 There will be outstanding levels of supply for those who increase their level of commitment and improve their attendance to God's house.
- 15 The Lord keeps reminding me that where sin abounds, grace does much more abound, and darkness can never overcome light.
- 16 I can't help but continue to see the dark cloud trying to hover over even our country. Hatred and prejudice will continue to stir in our society, causing intimidation and violence.
- 17 I predict an increase in the deep fear of man. Fragile people will shake and quake under the slightest internet criticism, no matter the source.
- 18 Hatred will continue to become king over people's lives, and even many Christians will bow their knee to this evil force, turn away from the love walk, and be used to cause great hurt and harm, even against God's work.
- 19 I see that young people will continue to outdo their parents in church.
- 20 I see many Christians turning back to yesterday's strengths and the Bible basics of Christianity—to live a true born-again life, to forgive others, to live a life of prayer, to study the Scriptures and live accordingly—and to be found in God's house to praise and worship Him, present their tithes and offerings, and participate in Christian fellowship.

Some of these events can be changed or even prevented by our response to God's warnings!
